The Partibridges team has the pleasure to invite you to our virtual dissemination event, to present our productions :

An e-training module on youth participation in europe

A methodological guide on participatory action research and a webdocumentary (video of PAR projects)

During three years, ten universities and associations worked together to co-construct these productions.

We are interested to share what we learnt and disseminate our work to a larger audience including academics, practitioners and young people.

Find out more about what Partibridges was all about and share your ideas on building partnerships in Youth Participation !
